My ancestry left the Khyshis of the Barolong during or about the years 1580-1600. It past to the House of a younger brother and descended down to Tau (Lion) who ruled over the Barolong about 1770-1790 Tau is thus the progenitor of the four royal branches of the Barolong — (1) Ra Tau (2) Tshidi 3 Seleka 4 Rapulana

My Mother is a direct descendant of a grandson of the last named from Tau's youngest and dearest wife, Mahudi. Mother is therefore near relative of the Chiefs Mankoroane of Bechuanaland and Montsioa of Transvaal also of Chief Senyaung of

My father and mother are both descended from Chief Morolong. Father from the senior house of the Tribe (deposed about 1600) and mother from the junior house which survived the changing scenes and vicissitudes of time.

Thus, father and mother are of a common ancestor but 27 degrees apart

Regarding my ancestry I think I am the first to put memory on paper. The available information was first supplied by Grannie Mamashwe-a-Motlhoo (An Mafikeng) and corrected for me by Ma-Jakopo (Mogale's daughter-in-law and her sister Mokhosi. Last two died near Kraaipan Bechuanaland

My ancestors lost the Chieftainship of the Barolong in the year 1580-1600. It passed to a younger brother and came down to Tau (Lion) who ruled in the years 1770-90. Tau is the progenitor of the Ra Rapulana branch of the Ra Tshidi. My mother is a direct descendant of a grandson of Tau from the house of his youngest and dearest wife. Salumi. Mother is therefore a near relative of Chief Mattabo of Bechuanaland and of West Transvaal and also of Chief Jeremiah O.F.S.

My father and mother are both descendant from Chief Moroka - father from the senior House (now deposed) and mother from the junior house still reigning. Thus father and mother are relatives 27 degrees removed.
